DIRECTOR'S NOTE:

We are the innovative ensemble of Hand Me Down Theatre bringing to you our debut performance of 'Take Me By the Tongue', a collaborative devising process incorporating notorious texts, ranging from absurd lyrics to the works of Shakespeare. This contemporary practice will introduce you to new perceptions, interpretations and how we view self image. Our repertoire will present to you original songs, verbatim and modern issues in the media. Follow us as we literally lead you through our dynamic realm of theatre, all with a feminist twist...
